Textbook Check-In

Parents, please have a conversation with your student to make certain he/she turns in all textbooks and novels checked out in his/her name directly to the Textbook Room. Leaving books in the classroom, locker, or assuming the teacher will turn the books in for your student, leaves him/her at risk for having a lost textbook fine against them. These books are your student's responsibility the moment they are issued to him/her.

Please be certain all fines/fees are paid for before the close of this school year to insure SPUD or Diploma pick up go smoothly.

Thank you!

Spring Break 2018 Trip

If you are interested in traveling to Ireland and London on Spring Break, March 17-24, 2018, the deadline to sign up is Wednesday, May 17.

We will fly into Killarney and explore the Emerald Isle working our way down to Dublin; we will even participate in a traditional Irish farming experience and get a chance to kiss the Blarney Stone. Then we will travel to London, visiting all the sights, taking a ride on the famous London Eye, and even going to a theater performance in London's famous West End. We would love for you to join us on this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity!

Want a Head Start on PSAT Prep?

PSAT is the one and only exam that allows the highest-achieving students in the nation to qualify as National Merit Semifinalists—an honor that can, for many students, garner a larger scholarship than any other exam. The PSAT is the sole factor for determining National Merit eligibility. While the junior year is the only year where the test qualifies students for National Merit, we recommend freshman and sophomores take the test for practice the one time a year it is offered (mid-October). We are offering a PSAT Crash Course June 13th & 14th to enable students to begin prepping for the test. The more time students have to practice and prepare for the PSAT the better.

Master the Test is hosting an informative meeting for parents to understand the PSAT and how to prepare their students for this test. Please join us on May 10th at 5:30-6:30 pm in the Edmond North Media Center.

Last year in our first year of PSAT test prep, we guided seven students to National Merit Semifinalist status. As a result, those students were eligible for a combined $840,000 in scholarships.

Check out www.masterthetest.net for more information on our crash courses.
